The global coalition against corruption

Our accountability and ethics

Our accountability

Transparency International EU is an international non-profit organisation, registered as independent under Belgian law (“aisbl”), with the full name “Transparency International Liaison Office to the European Union”.

We are part of the global movement of Transparency International with more than 100 national chapters worldwide and we are closely associated with the Transparency International Secretariat (TI-S) based in Berlin.

We are non-partisan and do not take institutional positions. We alone determine our programmes and activities – no donor has any input into our policies.

In our daily work, we engage with officials and politicians from the European institutions and a range of other stakeholders in Brussels, sharing our vision and trying to influence decisions made at EU level. We are therefore registered on the EU Transparency Register, the register of interest groups and lobbying organisations for the EU Parliament and the EU Commission.

Ethics

Each staff member and volunteer of Transparency International EU adheres to our Code of Conduct. Our whistleblowing policy is here.

Transparency International EU follows the Transparency International Conflict of Interest Policy.
