

Public survey for European Democracy Action plan

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

The Commission's Political Guidelines announced a European Democracy Action Plan under the headline ambition of a new push for European Democracy. The Commission intends to present the Action Plan towards the end of 2020.

The aim of the European Democracy Action Plan is to ensure that citizens are able to participate in the democratic system through informed decision-making free from interference and manipulation affecting elections and the democratic debate.

The Commission has started the preparation of the European Democracy Action Plan and would like to consult the public on three key themes:

- Election integrity and how to ensure electoral systems are free and fair;
- Strengthening media freedom and media pluralism;
- Tackling disinformation.

In addition, the consultation also covers the crosscutting issue of supporting civil society and active citizenship.

When providing your contribution, you may opt to fill in one or more of the four sections, according to their relevance to your areas of interest. Please note that a specific public consultation on the Digital Services Act package is open until 8 September 2020 and covers also elements relevant in the context of the European Democracy Action Plan.[1]

Questions on election integrity and political advertising

Fair democratic debates and electoral campaigns as well as free and fair elections in all Member States are at the core of our democracies. The space for public debate and electoral campaigns has evolved rapidly and fundamentally, with many activities taking place online. This brings opportunities for the democratic process, public participation and citizen outreach but also challenges, inter alia concerning the transparency of political advertising online and possible threats to the integrity of elections. Ahead of the 2024 European Parliament elections, changes to the role of European political parties might also be considered.

(i) Transparency of political advertising

Q1 Have you ever been targeted^[2] with online content that related to political or social issues, political parties (European or national), political programmes, candidates, or ideas within or outside electoral periods ('targeted political content')?

[2] Paid for ads and any form of personalised content promoted to the user

- 1. No, never
- 2. Yes, once
- 3. Yes, several times
- 4. I don't know

Q2. If you receive such targeted political content, are you checking who is behind it, who paid for it and why you are seeing it?

- 1. No, I am not interested
- 2. I don't know how to do it
- 3. Yes, occasionally
- 4. Yes, all the time
- 5. I don't receive targeted political content

Q3. To what extent do you agree with the following statements related to targeted political content you have seen online?

	Fully agree	Somewhat agree	Neither agree not disagree	Somewhat disagree	Fully disagree	I don't know /No reply
--	-------------	----------------	----------------------------	-------------------	----------------	------------------------

1. Targeted content was labelled in a clear manner	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
2. It was easy to distinguish paid for targeted content from organic content	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
3. It was easy to identify the party or the candidate behind the content	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
4. The content included information on who paid for it	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
5. The information provided with the content included targeting criteria	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
6. The ad was linked to a database of targeted political content	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
7. The targeted political content offered the possibility to report it to the platform	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Q4. Which of the following initiatives/actions would be important for you as a target of political content?

	Not at all	A little	Neither a lot nor a little	A lot	Absolutely	Don't know
1. Disclosure rules (transparency on the origin of political content)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
2. Limitation of micro-targeting of political content, including based on sensitive criteria, and in respect of data protection rules	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
3. Creation of open and transparent political advertisements archives and registries that show all the targeted political content, as well as data on who paid for it and how much	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
4. Political parties to disclose their campaign finances broken down by media outlet	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
5. Prohibit foreign online targeted political content	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
6. Prohibit online targeted political content altogether	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

7. Rules limiting targeted political content on the election day and just before	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
8. Other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Q5. Online targeted political content may make use of micro-targeting techniques allowing advertisers to target with high precision people living in a specific location, of a certain age, ethnicity, sexual orientation or with very specific interests. Do you think that:

	Fully agree	Somewhat agree	Neither agree not disagree	Somewhat disagree	Fully disagree	I don't know /No reply
1. Micro-targeting is acceptable for online political content and it should not be limited	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
2. Criteria for micro-targeting of political content should be publicly disclosed in a clear and transparent way for every ad	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
3. Micro-targeting criteria should be strictly limited	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
4. Micro-targeting criteria should be banned	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain

Micro-targeting raises serious concerns in the conduct of elections not only in terms of data privacy but also in terms of safeguarding trust in electoral outcomes. Micro-targeted messages use precision data-mining tools to ensure that political ads are specifically tailored to the individual, leading to a lack of impartial information and a complete absence of public scrutiny of the messaging being pushed to voters. The contrast with more “blunt” mass-media advertising techniques using for example broadcast or print media is stark: untargeted voters, opposition candidates, journalists and civil society can no longer monitor and hold to account political messaging during elections. Furthermore, the use of micro-targeting techniques can lead to entire groups from being excluded from political deliberation, further eroding social cohesion in modern democracies.

At the bare minimum, service content providers should clearly label political ads using micro-targeting techniques and provide the full details of why a user was being targeted. The extent of the information should encompass both user-declared information (age, gender, nationality, geography etc.), as well as inferred information (generated on systemic level and not explicitly provided by the user, including characteristics assigned to people based on their activities and behaviours). Data-protection should be upheld to the highest standards and allow users to opt-out at any point from being targeted. In order to re-instate a certain level of public scrutiny, actors engaging in online political advertising must also disclose key information on their data-mining algorithms (scope, purpose & quantitative data), easily accessible to targeted users on content service providers.

Q6. EU countries regulate offline political advertising on traditional media (e.g. press, television) in the context of local, national or EU elections. These rules limit the amount of airtime or maximum expenditure permitted for political advertising on broadcast TV or print media. Do you think similar rules should also apply to online targeted political content?

- 1. Yes
- 2. No
- 3. I don't know

Please explain your answer

Most other EU Member States regulate to various degree traditional political advertising in broadcast or printed media. These rules usually comprise a mix of the following:

1. spending limits during electoral campaigns
2. Pre-poll black outs
3. Rules on impartiality including provisions to guarantee equal air time for candidates, parties or sides during referendums.
4. Strict controls of the sources of funding for political communications.

These rules exist not only to guarantee a level-playing field but also to prevent undue influence by private or hostile actors seeking to illegally manipulate electoral outcomes. Regulations and rules on political advertising have not kept pace with the advent of digital campaign. National authorities struggle to enforce spending limits and prevent illegal sources of funding, with dire consequences to the integrity of our electoral systems.

Transposing equal air time rules into the digital sphere would prove complex, given the diversity of platforms and type of ads services provided. However, at a basic-level, rules should be put in place to ensure that any offering of digital services to disseminate political advertisement, through social media and other platforms, must apply the same commercial conditions (incl. rates, rebates, discounts) to all actors, positions , and/or all political parties and candidates during election campaigns.

On a more fundamental level, there is an urgent need to bring more transparency for the sole purpose of enforcing maximum permitted expenditure. Rules should ensure clear identification of who pays for online advertising, to whose benefit and the corresponding sums involved. This information should be provided to citizens, journalists, civil society and national enforcement agencies in aggregated political ads libraries that re-instates accountability in digital campaigning undue influence. Adopting such rules at EU-level would not only ensure compliance across the single market by all current and future platform (platform agnostic rules) but also prevent the fragmentation among member-states, significantly boosting capacity of national electoral commission in guaranteeing a level-playing field in elections.

(ii) Threats to electoral integrity

Q1. Do you believe the following are real and existing threats to the electoral process in the EU and its Member States?

1. Intimidation of minorities	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
2. Intimidation of political opposition	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

11. Other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

[IF Q1=11: Please define]

Q1.1 IF Q1=YES for any answer option

- 1. Have you felt personally intimidated/threatened by targeted political content?
- 2. Could you tell us more about your experience?

Please explain your answer

(iii) European Political Parties:

Q1. Is there scope to further give a stronger European component to the future campaigns for EU elections? Please list initiatives important to you in this regard

	Not at all	A little	Neither a lot nor a little	A lot	Absolutely	Don't know
1. Better highlighting the links between the national and European Political Parties, for example by displaying both names on ballot papers and in targeted political content	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
2. More transparency on financing (e.g. information about how much national parties contribute yearly to the European Political Parties budgets)	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
3. Bigger budgets for European Political Parties	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

4. Strengthening the European campaigns by European Political Parties in Member States	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
5. Better explaining the role of European Political Parties in the EU	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
6. Other	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Please explain

European political parties and foundations play a crucial role in fostering the emergence of a pan-European democracy and has the potential to significantly enhance citizens engagement with the EU institutions. The measures listed above would further cement this role with an underlying objective being to increase accountability of decisions taken in Brussels. This can also lead to higher turnout further enhancing the legitimacy of the EU as a political project.

However, for European political parties and foundations to emerge as recognised actors during European elections, enhanced transparency measures in their funding model are needed. Both to foster trust and prevent potentially damaging scandals. The current funding provisions, under the supervision of the Authority for European Political Parties and European Political Foundations (APPF), have adequate transparency measures in place regarding political donations but entirely omit to inform voters on contributions by national parties. The disparity of rules regarding political finance in the EU could potentially open a backdoor for unaccounted financing of European political parties. Requiring national parties to be transparent on their contributions in an aggregated manner on the APPF website would allow citizens, journalists, CSO's and the Authority itself to further verify sources of funding and hold candidates accountable during European elections.

(iv) European Elections

Q1. In your opinion what initiatives at national level could strengthen monitoring and enforcement of electoral rules and support the integrity of European elections (multiple selections possible)?

- 1. Strengthened sharing of information and monitoring activity across borders and between authorities
- 2. Technical interfaces to display all political advertisements as defined by online service providers
- 3. Technical interfaces to display all advertisements (political or not)
- 4. Clear rules for delivery of political ads online in electoral periods, similarly to those that exist in traditional media (TV, radio and press)
- 5. Independent oversight bodies with powers to investigate reported irregularities
- 6. Enhanced reporting obligations (e.g. to national electoral management bodies) on advertisers in a campaign period

- 7. Enhanced transparency of measures taken by online platforms in the context of elections, as well as meaningful transparency of algorithmic systems involved in the recommendation of content
- 8. Privacy-compliant access to platform data for researchers to better understand the impact of the online advertisement ecosystem on the integrity of democratic processes
- 9. Greater convergence of certain national provisions during European elections
- 10. Stronger protection against cyber attacks
- 11. Higher sanctions for breaches of the electoral rules
- 12. Other – please specify

Please explain your answer

Regarding point 9, it is unclear what is understood by greater convergence of national provisions during European elections beyond the scope of digital campaigning. Furthermore, regarding point 11, the current issue faced by national authorities is a lack of capacity to apply existing sanctions in cases of breaches to national electoral law. This presupposes enhanced capacity for monitoring online activities during elections, which could be achieved by harmonised technical interfaces for displaying political ads (see previous answer).

Q2. In your opinion what initiatives at European level could strengthen monitoring and enforcement of rules relevant to the electoral context?

- 1. Strengthened sharing of information and monitoring activity across borders and between authorities
- 2. European-level obligations on political advertising service providers
- 3. European-level shared online monitoring and analysis capability being made appropriately available to national authorities
- 4. Cross border recognition of certain national provisions
- 5. Other

Please explain your answer

Questions on strengthening media freedom and media pluralism

Freedom of expression and freedom and pluralism of the media are enshrined in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union (Article 11), and their protection is underpinned by Article 10 of the European Convention on Human Rights. They are essential elements of a healthy democratic system.

Whilst in general the EU and its Member States score well on a global scale, there are signs of deterioration (as shown by the Media Pluralism Monitor) and the sector is facing challenges from threats to the safety of journalists (including strategic lawsuits against public participation – ‘SLAPP lawsuits’) to the transformation of the sector, with digital technologies and new players transforming the established business model of advertising revenue. The COVID-19 pandemic has worsened the situation, both in the EU and outside of the EU, from restrictive national legislation to critical loss of revenues for the media sector.

Initiatives to strengthen media freedom and media pluralism will build in particular on the analysis and areas covered by the upcoming Rule of Law Report, with a focus on improving the protection of journalists, their rights and working conditions. Please note that the Commission also intends to propose, by the end of the year, an Action Plan for the Media and Audiovisual sector to further support the digital transformation and the competitiveness of the media and audiovisual sectors and to stimulate access to quality content and media pluralism.

- 2. No (please justify)
- 3. I do not know

Please explain your answer

Q1.1 If yes, what kind of issue?

- 1. Lack of proper sanction applied to perpetrators of attacks against journalists– Yes/No
- 2. Abuse of defamation laws or other laws aiming at silencing journalists and news media – Yes/No
- 3. Lack of legal safeguards for journalistic activities – Yes/No
- 4. Lack of institutions to protect journalists – Yes/No
- 5. Online hate speech – Yes/No
- 6. Cyberbullying – Yes/No
- 7. Physical threats – Yes/No
- 8. Other – please specify

Please explain your answer

Q2. Are you familiar with the concept of ‘strategic lawsuits against public participation’ (SLAPPs)?

- 1. Yes
- 2. No
- 3. Don't know

Q2.1 If yes, are you aware of such lawsuits in your own Member State?

- 1. Yes
- 2. No
- 3. Don't know

Please explain your answer

SLAPPs are lawsuits brought forward by powerful actors (e.g. companies, public officials in their private capacity, high profile persons) to harass and silence those speaking out in the public interest. Typical victims are those with a watchdog role, for instance: journalists, activists, informal associations, academics, trade unions, media organisations and civil society organisations. They are prevalent across the EU and pose a fundamental threat to democracy and the right to free speech. Recent examples include:

1. PayPal suing SumOfUs for a peaceful protest outside PayPal's German headquarters
2. Co-owners of Malta's Satabank suing blogger Manuel Delia for a blog post denouncing money laundering at Satabank
3. Bolloré Group suing Sherpa and ReAct in France to stop them from reporting human rights abuses in Cameroon
4. In Italy more than 6,000 or two-thirds of defamation lawsuits filed against journalists and media outlets annually are dismissed as meritless by a judge
5. There were 47 SLAPPs cases pending against the brutally murdered Maltese anti-corruption journalist Daphne Caruana Galizia.

Q3. In your opinion, on which SLAPP related aspects should the European Union-level action be taken (multiple answers possible):

- 1. Regular monitoring of SLAPP cases in the European Union
- 2. Financial support for journalists facing SLAPP lawsuits
- 3. Rules on legal aid for journalists facing SLAPP lawsuits
- 4. Cross-border cooperation to raise awareness and share strategies and good practices in fighting SLAPP lawsuits
- 5. EU rules on cross-border jurisdiction and applicable law
- 6. None of the above

7. Other – please specify

Please explain your answer

The EU can and must end SLAPPs by adopting the following complementary measures to protect all those affected by SLAPPs:

1. Explore the possibility of legislative and non-legislative instruments to establish a Union-wide minimum standard of protection against SLAPPs, by introducing exemplary sanctions to be applied to claimants bringing abusive lawsuits, procedural safeguards for SLAPP victims, including special motions to contest the admissibility of certain claims and/or rules making the burden shifting to the plaintiff to demonstrate a reasonable probability of succeeding in such claims, as well as other types of preventive measures.
2. The reform of Brussels I and Rome II Regulations: Brussels I Regulation (recast) contains rules which grant claimants the ability to choose where to make a claim. This must be amended to end forum shopping in defamation cases, which forces defendants to hire and pay for defence in countries whose legal systems are unknown to them and where they are not based. Rome II Regulation does not regulate which national law will apply to a defamation case. This allows claimants to select the most favourable substantive law and therefore leads to a race to the bottom. Today, victims may be subject to the lowest standard of freedom of expression applicable to their case.
3. Support all victims of SLAPPs: Funds are needed to morally and financially support all victims of SLAPPs, especially with legal defence. Justice Programme funds should be used to train judges and practitioners, and a system to publicly name and shame the companies that engage in SLAPPs, for example in an EU register, should be created.
4. Finally, the EU must ensure that the scope of anti-SLAPP measures include everybody affected by SLAPPs, including journalists, activists, trade unionists, academics, digital security researchers, human rights defenders, media and civil society organisations, among others.

Q4. Do you think that the EU should act to strengthen safety of journalists and other media actors / improve conditions for journalistic activities?

- 3. I do not know

Please explain your answer

Q4.1 If yes, how?

- 1. By issuing guidance – Yes/No
- 2. By setting up dedicated structured dialogue with Member States – Yes/No
- 3. By providing financial support – Yes/No
- 4. Other – please specify

Please explain your answer

Q5. Are you aware of any issues regarding the protection of journalistic sources in your country?

- 1. Yes (please provide concrete examples)
- 2. No
- 3. I do not know

Please explain your answer

In the former, this further increase the power of services over the information flow to citizens with potentially detrimental effects in our democracies. The latter could however be explored, taking into account the respective specificity of each EU Member State.

Questions on tackling disinformation

Designed to intentionally deceive citizens and manipulate our information space, disinformation undermines the ability of citizens to form informed opinions. Disinformation can also be a tool for manipulative interference by external actors.

(i) Scope

Q1. The April 2018 Commission Communication on Tackling online disinformation: a European Approach defines disinformation as verifiably false or misleading information that is created, presented and disseminated for economic gain or to intentionally deceive the public, and may cause public harm.[4]

Do you think this definition should be broadened and complemented to distinguish between different aspects of the problem?

[4] Public harm includes threats to democratic processes as well as to public goods such as Union citizens' health, environment or security. Disinformation does not include inadvertent errors, satire and parody, or clearly identified partisan news and commentary.

- 1. Yes (please specify)
- 2. No (please specify)
- 3. Don't know

Please explain your answer

Q2. So far, the European Commission has addressed the spread of disinformation through a self-regulatory approach, which has resulted in a Code of Practice on Disinformation being subscribed by major online platforms and trade associations representing the advertising industry. Do you think that this approach should be:[5]

[5] This question complements the questionnaire for the public consultation on the Digital Services Act, which focuses on illegal content

- 1. Continued as it is currently pursued (status quo)
- 2. Pursued but enlarged to a wider range of signatories
- 3. Pursued but combined with a permanent monitoring and reporting programme
- 4. Pursued but on the basis of a substantially reviewed Code of Practice
- 5. Pursued but accompanied by a regulatory framework fixing basic requirements for content moderation, data access and transparency, as well as respective oversight mechanisms
- 6. Pursued but accompanied by a regulatory package fixing overarching principles applicable to all information society services and establishing more detailed rules for dealing with disinformation under such general principles
- 7. Replaced by special regulation on disinformation

8. abandoned altogether, as all forms of restriction or control on content posted online by internet users and which is not illegal in nature (e.g. illegal hate speech, incitement to terrorism) could endanger freedom of speech

9. Other (please explain)

Please explain your answer
